He believes that the name “Adobe” stemmed from the idea of printing, but it turns out that Adobe is a word originating from the fact that they used the “photo” on the embossed letters. Adobe Photoshop literally means “Photo Editor” in Latin. Adobe released the first version of Photoshop in March 1990, with the pre-release version known as Mac Photoshop. The new product offered Photoshop as a full-featured editor for photo editing and graphics design. When the Macintosh version of Photoshop was released in November 1990, it was quickly installed in many high-end photo labs because of its features. Adobe Photoshop quickly became a professional resource for graphic designers and photographers. Today, Adobe Photoshop is the most widely used photo editing software used for both professional and personal tasks. A History of Adobe Photoshop Elements The first Photoshop

Australia's Sam Kerr has been banned for three matches over alleged racist comments she made on social media in early March. The FIFA Disciplinary and Ethics Committee have decided the comments made on the Sunrise breakfast show on March 1 were “unprofessional”. Kerr accepted a written warning and a ban for a minimum period of one competition, including the AFC Women’s Asian Cup. “The representative of Australia showed that her conduct was clearly in breach of the Laws of the Game,” said a FIFA statement released on Monday. “She accepted responsibility for her words and actions. Her ban also includes a minimum period of one competition, including the AFC Women’s Asian Cup.” In her comments on the breakfast show, Kerr made reference to two former teammates, who are both now in the United States. At the time, Kerr said: “It was mostly just words of support for those girls that are dealing with it, and also, also talking about maybe us having the opportunity to win it, so we can sort of be front and centre when we do get the cup.” The ban starts from the date of the incident, March 1, and runs until the conclusion of the Asian Cup in December. Along with the suspension, Kerr has been fined A$9,000 (NZ$9,460). She is the third Australian to receive a suspension in the wake of racial abuse allegations following the 2019 World Cup in France and the Asian Cup. Jack Wilshere has been banned for one match and Megan Rapinoe for two matches after both were charged with “racially aggravated public insults”. Both are yet to appeal and will miss the June 18 blockbuster between the United States and France at the Tournament of Nations in Sapporo, where Australia will face Nigeria. Australia's captain Sam Kerr has been charged with misconduct for allegedly making comments about two of her former teammates during an interview in March. (File) (Getty Images: Simon Hofert) Australia's Matildas coach Tom Sermanni, who is facing the same ban as Kerr after being charged over his comments, is expected to be found guilty, with a three-match ban ruled out to be a "grossly disproportionate penalty". Sermanni was upset over allegations of racism after being "sternly criticised" by Anzhi Makhachkala.

Primary Meningioma of the Temporal Artery: A Case Report and Review of the Literature.

Primary meningioma of the temporal artery is extremely rare. The differential diagnosis of the meningioma includes angiosarcoma, aberrant meningioma, hemangiopericytoma, and rhabdomyosarcoma. Here, we report the case of a 55-year-old man who presented with headache. Computed tomography revealed an enhancing mass lesion in the anterior fossa of the left temporal region. Surgical resection was performed. Histopathological examination of the tumor showed psammoma bodies and immunohistochemical staining for pan-cytokeratin and epithelial membrane antigen was positive. At 10 months postoperatively, no recurrence has been observed. The role of preoperative high-dose-rate intracavitary brachytherapy in patients with locally advanced, intermediate-risk endometrial cancer. The objective of the current study was to determine the benefit of postoperative adjuvant chemotherapy (CT) and external-beam radiation therapy (EBRT) following high-dose-rate (HDR) intracavitary brachytherapy (ICBT) in patients with locally advanced, intermediate-risk endometrial cancer, in the absence of nodal metastasis, by comparing the outcome of women who received adjuvant CT and EBRT to those who did not. Women with FIGO Stage IIIA to IIIC, intermediate-risk endometrial cancer, no clinical nodal metastasis, and who underwent HDR-ICBT followed by EBRT (without or with concurrent CT) were identified from our institutional database. Outcomes were assessed by log-rank test and Cox regression analyses for relapse-free survival (RFS), overall survival (OS), and distant relapse-free survival (DRFS) to a median follow-up of 47 months. Of 261 patients with locally advanced, intermediate-risk endometrial cancer with complete pathologic data, 58 received adjuvant CT and 203 did not. Positive surgical margins, nonendometrioid histology, and FIGO Stage IV were significantly worse in the group that received CT. Among the patients who received CT, women with complete pathologic responses to primary therapy had excellent rates of 5-year RFS (90%), OS (84%), and DRFS (89%); among patients with incomplete pathologic responses, the 5-year
